DETAILED ACTION

Response to Argument

The examiner acknowledges the amendment filed 1/30/06 with the following effect;

The amendments are in mood of new ground of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 51 – 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dumbeck (US 4,495,448)

As to claim 51, Dumbeck disclosed (fig 1) a method of measuring electric motor comprising:

Positioning an electric motor (16) to be tested for measurement on a stator side (claim 1) in a motor mount, and

Measuring a voltage induced (by the 41) in the non-energized winding of the electric motor (16) with the rotor running freely.

As to claims 52 - 55, Dumbeck disclosed (fig 1) the amplitude maxima and zero crossing of the induced voltage influenced by reducing the rotational speed of the rotor are ascertained, and a theoretical profile of the induced voltage is adapted to these values and this adapted theoretical profile is used to ascertain the amplitude values of the induced voltage and zero crossing for an unbraked rotation to the rotor.

As to claims 56, 57, Dumbeck disclosed (fig 1) the resistance and a current fed to the windings of the stationary electric motor is measured.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1 – 50 are allowed.

The prior arts of record are fail to disclosed the combination of measuring device for electric motors comprising:

a motor mount, in which an electric motor to be tested can be positioned on the stator side for measurement, and a first runout measuring device, having at least a first runout sensor said first runout measuring device detecting a runout of a rotor of said electric motor in a first direction by detecting a variation of a spacing between said first runout sensor and said rotor in said first direction in the course of at least one revolution of said rotor, and a second runout measuring device having at least a second runout sensor said second runout measuring device detecting a run out of the rotor of said electric motor in a second direction by detecting a variation of a spacing between said second runout sensor and said rotor in said second direction in the course of at least one revolution of said rotor, said second direction extending transversely in relation to the first direction, and said runout in said second direction being measured at the same time as the runout in the first direction.
